Home Security Systems

Get Peace of Mind

As a Florida homeowner, you're probably concerned about security. You want your house to be a place where you and your family feel safe. Fortunately, today's technology makes that possible.

A security system can mean the difference between sleeping soundly at night or becoming another victim of this state's considerable crime statistics. Let Del-Air Security Services provide you with the right home security solution.

One Size Doesn't Fit All

Every family and every home are different, so shouldn't your security system be unique too? Whereas most large, national security companies offer you a choice of pre-determined packages that can have you paying for features you don't need, we customize our security systems.

We begin with a thorough inspection of your property to identify any areas of vulnerability. We then consider your security objectives as well as your lifestyle. Finally, we'll propose a system that's specifically designed for you.

If you already have a security system and just want to update it or add monitoring, we can help as well.

The Latest Technology

With progress continually being made in the home security field, you want to choose a company that offers the most advanced security systems. Del-Air uses only top-of-the-line equipment and technology.

Your security system will be expandable, so that as new products become available or as your needs change, your system can be modified.

It's also yours to keep. You own it. If you move, Del-Air will install a new system at no additional charge.

Full-featured Systems

Today's security system can be so much more than a burglar alarm. It can include home video surveillance, medical monitoring and fire protection (heat, smoke and carbon monoxide detection). We'll offer you all the newest options.

No phone line? No problem. We can set the system to work with cellular dial outs,

SMS text messages, e-mail notification, web-based control, virtual keypad and keychain remote controls.

You can even have live video monitoring of your house streamed to the Internet or your smart phone. Protect your home and stay connected from anywhere.

Security Simplified

It's easy to feel overwhelmed by all the options when it comes to security products. Del-Air guides you through the process from selection of equipment, features and services to teaching you how to operate your system. (Don't worry. It's easy.)

Your home security system will be professionally installed by Del-Air's factory trained and experienced technicians. With today's wireless technology, most installations can be done in a few hours with no invasive drilling to your home.

Reliable Monitoring 24/7

A security system is only as good as its monitoring service. You want 100% confidence that if your alarm goes off, you'll get an immediate response.

Del-Air has partnered with Security Networks to deliver state-of-the-art monitoring to our customers. In business since 1999, the company has its own UL-listed and CSAA Five Diamond Certified central monitoring station, enabling it to offer technologically advanced, round-the-clock protection services.

Act Today. Sleep Easier Tonight.

Security systems don't have to be complex or cost a fortune. We offer practical, affordable solutions that will provide your family with the safety it deserves.

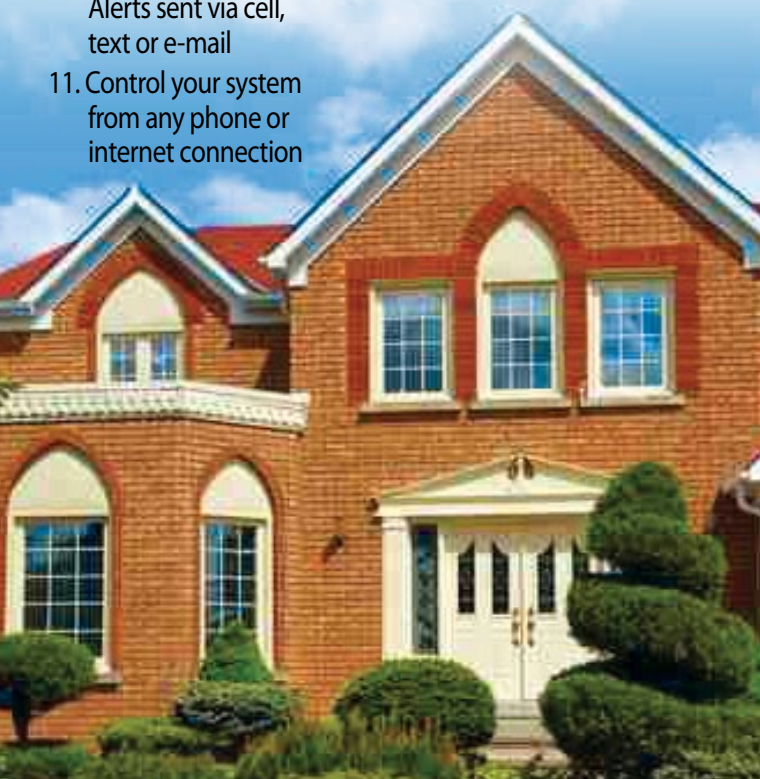

Enjoy the peace of mind that comes with first-rate protection. Contact Del-Air Security Services today for a no-obligation appointment with one of our certified home security experts.
